INCEPTOR HEADBAND

The interchangeable headband for INCEPTOR GRX helmets has been specially developed for quick and easy replacement in everyday working life. It ensures that the helmet remains ready for use at all times and can be optimally adapted to different requirements in terms of hygiene and functionality. Ideal for professional use, where reliability and efficiency are crucial.

Thanks to the clever push-button system, the headband can be changed in just a few seconds - without any tools. This saves time, reduces downtime and enables quick replacement in the event of wear or intensive use. This ease of use is a clear advantage, especially in demanding working environments.

The headband is fully compatible with all INCEPTOR GRX helmets and fits seamlessly into the existing helmet system. This maintains the fit while supporting flexible and sustainable use of the helmet.

The version without padding offers a reduced, functional solution for users who rely on minimal components or want to combine existing padding systems individually. This allows the helmet to be adapted precisely to personal preferences and conditions of use.
